

How to create, setup and use individual GIST Mobile Student Accounts

The use of a GIST Mobile Individual Student account is ideal for a teacher that wants to have all students in the class, working on their own device or computer with the ability to co-create and take notes in their own course. This scenario would be where a student is working on his or her own Unit Organizer online. When the student enters text into GIST Mobile it appears on his or her account and the teacher can view and monitor it in their Instructor Account.

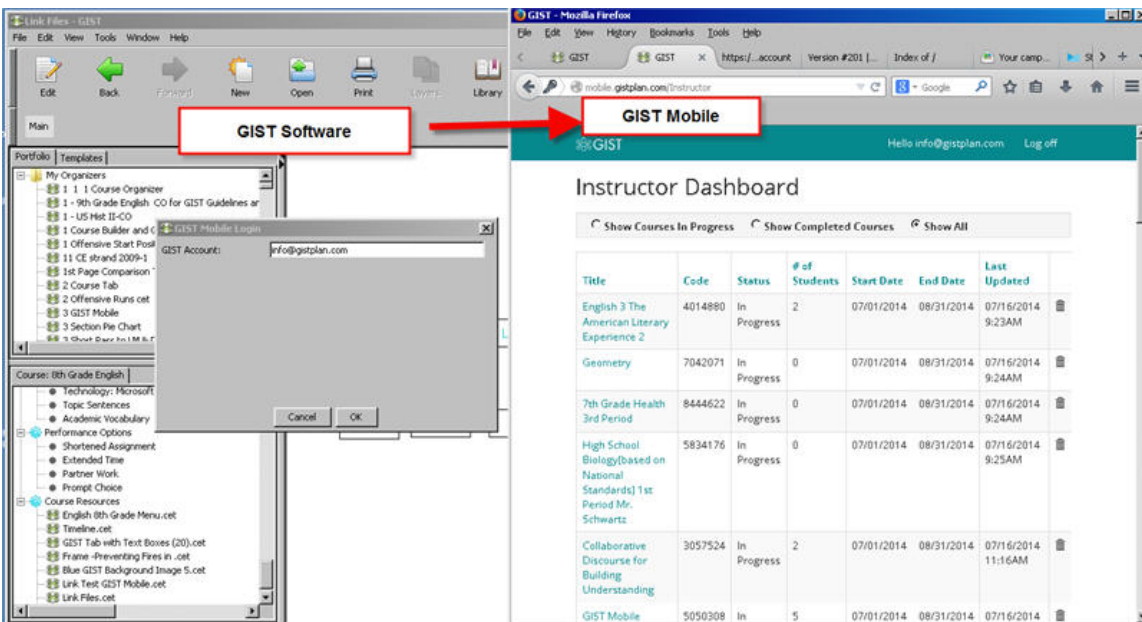

To create and set up a GIST Mobile Individual Student account, the teacher first needs to have their Instructor account and subscription set-up with either a promotion code or purchasing it via the GIST Online Store.

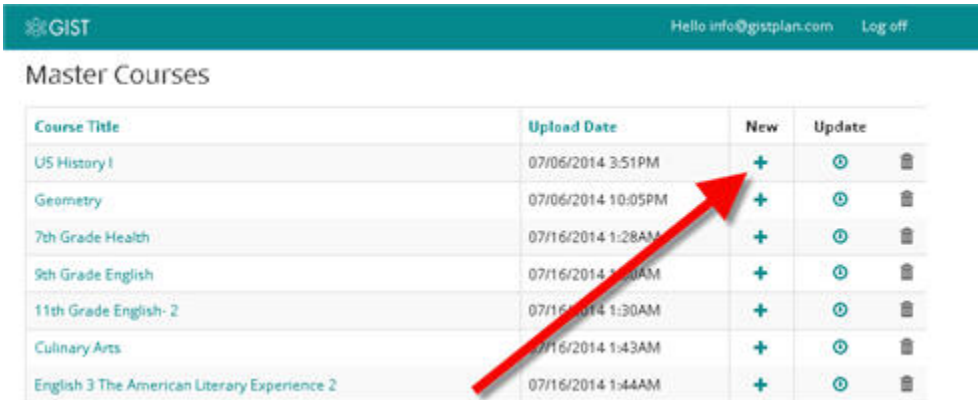

It is also a good idea for the teacher to have already have posted and course. Please see 'Publishing to GIST Mobile' Guide for information on how to publish from GIST Software to GIST Mobile. -

Once the teacher has published to her GIST Mobile account they will need to make the course active by selecting the plus button next to the Course on 'Instructors Dashboard' at mobile.gistplan.com.

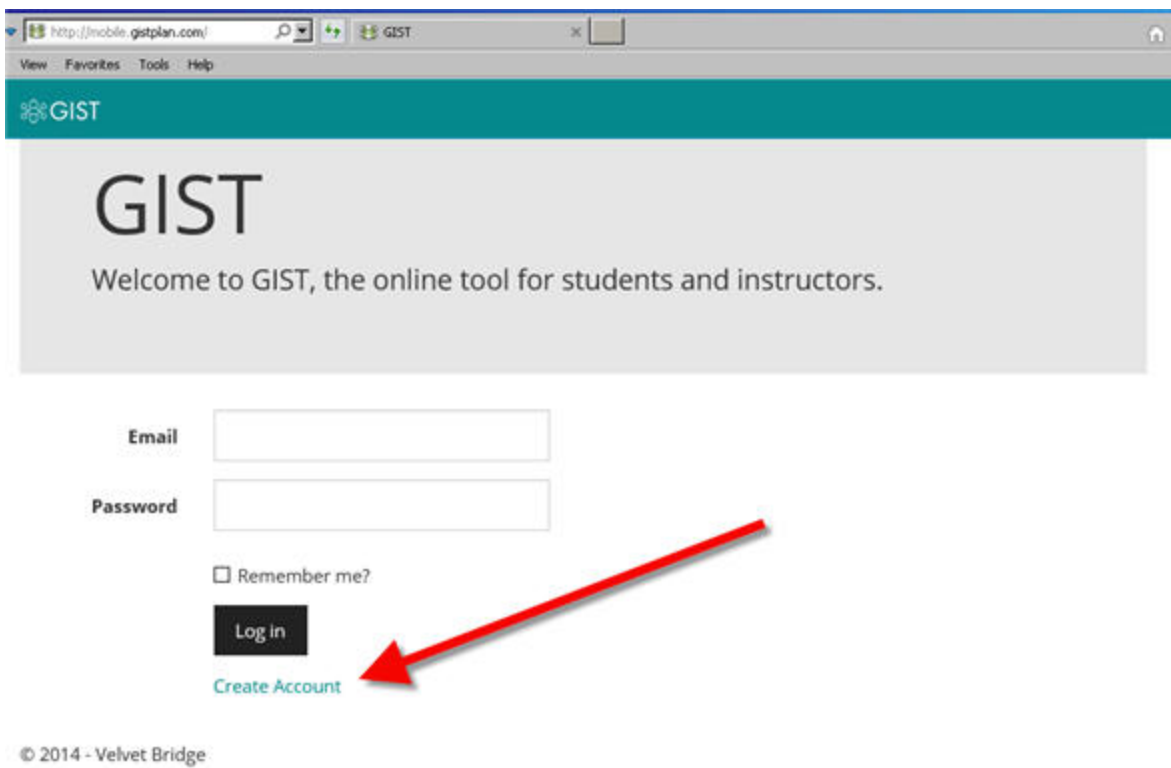

This will bring up an activate course button that will open an 'Add Course' menu. The 'Add Course' menu will require a start date, end date and name for that particular course or period. The course can then be put in to Progress but selecting the 'Submit' button on the 'Add Course' menu.

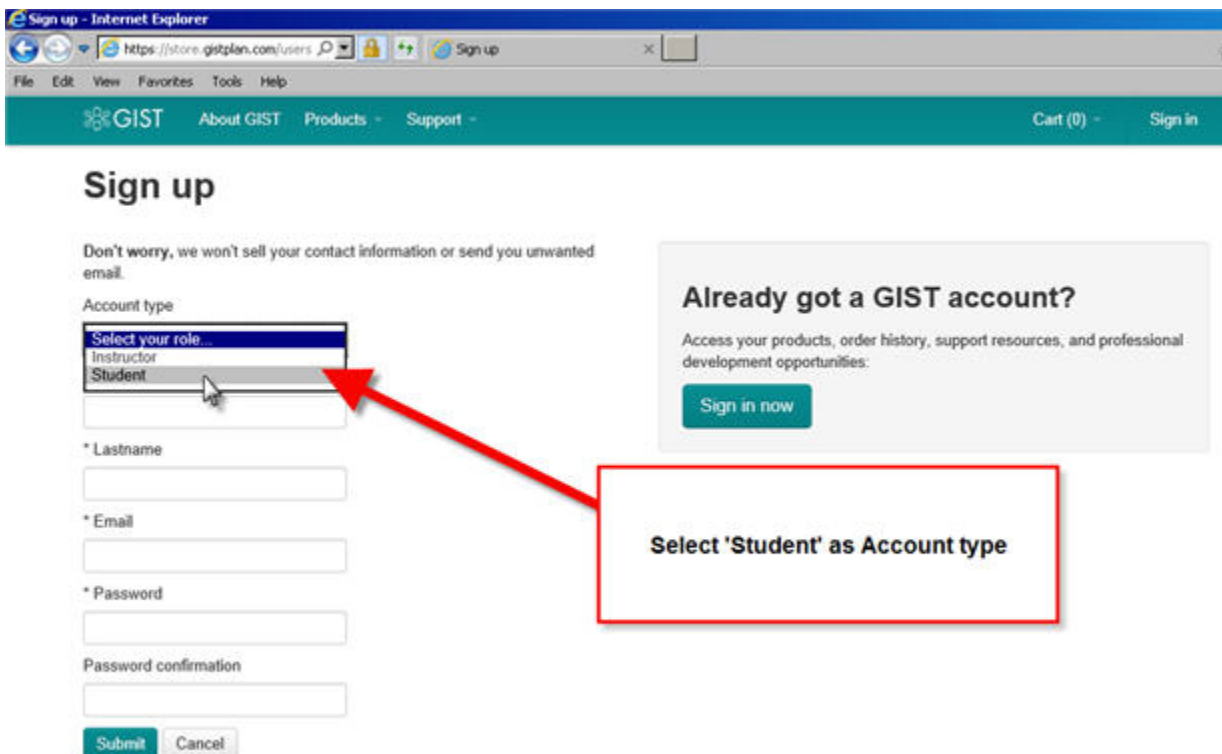

The Course will then appear in the top part of the Instructors Dashboard under the In Progress selection area. The Course will have a Course Number associated with it and should have a status of 'In Progress'.

Once a teacher's account and subscription is active and the teacher has posted his or her course from GIST software to GIST Mobile, a teacher can then walk the students through how to create a GIST Mobile Student Account. First, go to mobile.gistplan.com and select the 'Create Account' link.

Then, on the 'Sign up' page, have students select the 'Account Type' as 'Student'. It is important that the correct role is selected, as the GIST Mobile Instructor account is very different from the Student Account.

Next, have the student fill in the rest of their information and include an email account and password that they can remember.

Now that the Students have activated their GIST Mobile accounts and the teacher has posted and activated her course, students can find, match and join the Course. The individual students will need to sign in with email and password that they created on 'Sign Up' page.

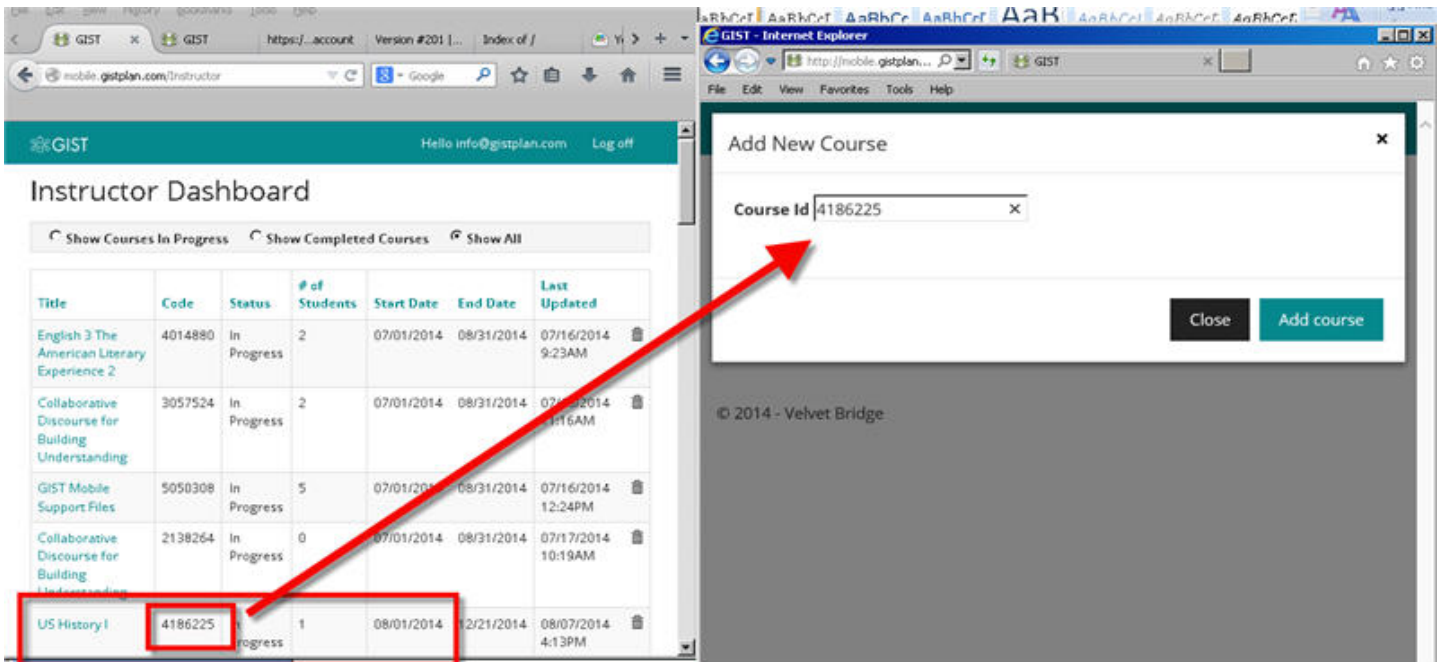

Once signed into the 'Student Dashboard' the student will select the 'Add Course' green link.

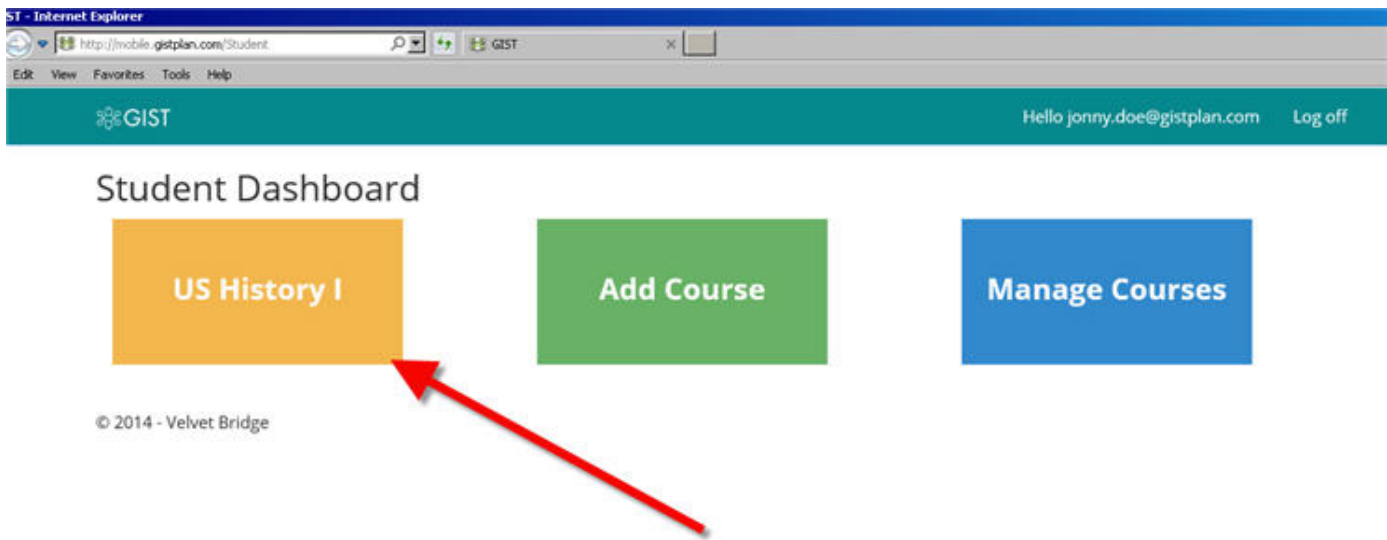

Next, the student will type in the Course ID in the Menu and then hit 'Submit' button.

Note, the Course ID can be found on the Instructors Dashboard under 'Courses in Progress'.

Once the course has been successfully added it will appear on the Instructors Dashboard.

The GIST Mobile Course should then be ready to be viewed and worked on by individual students. All Individual Student accounts will need to use their own sign-in email and password to access the Course. The teacher and students from there can co-create, view, take notes accesses assignment and handouts from the GIST Course.
